Music! Words! Opera! - Create Your Own Musical Story

The Music! Words! Opera! curriculum challenges students to experience communication and storytelling through methods beyond the spoken and written word. Opera and Music-Theatre invite students to explore fundamental means of human communication through language, music, dance, drama and visual arts.

By encouraging the basic human instinct for telling stories, students can be introduced to a whole new world of creative expression. Enhance core subjects while developing communication, collaboration and creative thinking.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO BE A MUSIC TEACHER TO PARTICIPATE

The workshop is for any educator—from the elementary classroom teacher to high school language arts or math teachers. It is particularly effective for teaching teams.

Help students discover the connections between language arts, social studies, science, mathematics and fine arts through musical storytelling. The possibilities are endless. Music! Words! Opera! methods and curriculum apply to all grade levels, K-12.

“Not only is the workshop an enjoyable week spent collaborating with colleagues, it is also very inspirational to come back and actually try different approaches and techniques with students. The support offered through Central City Opera’s Education program is excellent.”
Music Teacher, Granby Elementary
